Participation Agreement:

Canoe tripping has been practiced safely by youth camps and outfitters in Temagami and throughout North America for generations. Nevertheless, living outdoors and travelling under our own power entails accepting risks inherent in these activities. These risks encompass all aspects of wilderness living and could possibly include, but are not limited to: water dangers, sudden and/or severe weather events, slips and falls, cooking, wild animals, communal living, technological failure, and the fact that advanced medical care that is not always immediately available.

Temagami Clearwater Expeditions actively seeks to minimize the inherent risks of canoe tripping through a variety of strategies and has an excellent safety record. If you would like more information on our safety philosophy, our risk management practices, or specific details about our record, we would be happy to discuss these with you. Please contact Jim Tatman at jim@campmagami.com.

My signature below indicates the following:

- I have read and agree to the payment schedule outlined above, including consequences for late and non-payment.
- I understand that living outdoors and travelling under one's own power entails accepting risks inherent in these activities as outlined in the "Participation Agreement". I release the company from liability for accidents arising from inherent risks.
